

Our offer:

DAAD Scholarships are available for Master courses at selected institutions in Burkina Faso, Ethiopia, Ghana, Kenya, Malawi, Rwanda, Tanzania and Uganda.

Choose from a range of SDG-related disciplines, including:

- Agricultural Economics
- Aquaculture and Fisheries Science
- Climate Change and Disaster Management
- Education in Research
- Electrical Power Systems
- Environmental Health
- Geomatics
- Irrigation Engineering
- Molecular Cell Biology of Infectious Diseases
- Plant Breeding
- Seed Science and Technology
- Water and Environmental Engineering

Who can apply?

- Graduates and postgraduates from Sub-Saharan Africa with a first academic degree if applying for a Master's programme.
- Female applicants, refugees with recognised refugee status, and candidates from marginalized regions or groups are especially encouraged to participate in the programme.

Your benefits:

Monthly individual scholarship payments, payment of tuitions fees, annual research allowances, and options for a research stay abroad (subject to funding and a successful application).

DAAD IN-COUNTRY/ IN-REGION SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAMME

Apply for a DAAD scholarship in Sub-Saharan Africa

Do you see your future academic career contributing to sustainable development and the SDGs in Africa? Are you planning to pursue a Master's degree in this field? Then have a look at the study programmes offered by the DAAD within its In-Country/ In-Region Scholarship Programme.

Deadline:

12th

November

2026

For more information, contact details and to apply, please visit:
daad.de/go/en/stipa10000486